EXPLOSION PARTLY WRECKS SUBMARINE Y-49

NINE MEN ARE SERIOUSLY HURT EARLY TODAY

MEMBERS OF CREW JUST GONE ABOARD FOR THEIR REGULAR DUTIES

VESSEL RESTED AT PIER OF SUBMARINE BASE, NEW LONDON, CONN.

New London, Conn., April 20. —(UP)—An explosion partly wrecked the submarine S-49 as she rested at the pier of the submarine base here today.

Fifteen men, all sailors, were listed as injured, several having been seriously hurt.

The members of the crew had just gone aboard for their regular daily duties when the blast occurred. The batteries exploded but the exact cause is unknown. The hull was badly damaged.

The injured men were removed to the base hospital and an investigation was started. The extent of the damage was considerable, Lieutenant Challenger, assistant executive officer, told the United Press.

The S-49 is a sister ship of the ill-fated S-51, which was sunk off Block Island last fall by the City of Rome, with a loss of 34 lives.

COURT OF INQUIRY TO BE APPOINTED

Washington, April 20.—The navy department announced today that a court of inquiry into the submarine explosion at New London, Conn., had been ordered. Its advices said that 10 members of the submarine crew had been injured, some of them very seriously.

NINE MEN WERE SERIOUSLY INJURED

New London, Conn., April 20.—Nine men were seriously injured, one perhaps fatally, and a dozen others received lesser injuries here today when the batteries on the submarine S-49 blew up while the crew was at breakfast. The S-49 carries a crew of 40 men in command of Lieutenant W. G. Snyder.

The men, who were at breakfast, were hurled against the steel ceiling of the compartment and a scene of indescribable confusion resulted. The fire alarm at the base was sounded and rescue parties started clearing the wreckage and taking out the injured men. These were taken to the base hospital nearby.

The damage to the submarine was estimated at $150,000. What caused the batteries to explode is not definitely known, but a board of inquiry was at once appointed to make a full investigation. The most seriously injured was Quartermaster T. Greenville of Saco, Maine. He was reported in a dying condition with both arms blown off.

Among the injured was Sylvester E. Matlock, fireman, of Charleston, Ill.

2 BANK MESSENGERS ROBBED OF $25,000

Chicago, April 20—(UP)—Two bank messengers transferring $25,000 from the First National to the Prudential Savings bank on the north side today were held up and robbed of the money.

After they reached the Prudential, a man rushed up to the two messengers with the exclamation, "Come here, there's a dead woman."

The messenger carrying the satchel rushed over into a hall way and was slugged.

JURY IS SELECTED IN McCLENDON TRIAL

St. Paul, April 20.—(UP)—Selection of jurors continued today at the trial of Robert McClendon, alleged member of the famous Cardigan Junction robber band, for the murder of Fred Lindberg, Soo Line watchman.

Eight jurors had been chosen up to noon and the remaining four were expected to be in their places before adjournment this afternoon.

MOSES L. FROST FILES FOR STATE SENATOR

St. Paul, April 20.—(UP)—Moses L. Frost, Jackson, filed today with the secretary of state as a candidate for state senator in the 10th district.

It comprises Cottonwood and Jackson counties. Sen. C. W. Gillam, Windom, is the present senator.

Hint Compromise Between Rail and Motor Trucks

FRENCH-RIFFIAN NEGOTIATIONS STILL IN DOUBT

Oudjra, Morocco, April 20.—(UP)—The decision for peace or war between the French and the Riffians in Morocco probably will be further delayed, it was indicated today when Haddou, the Riffian negotiator, who returned to the Riff by airplane yesterday, arrived at Taourirt. Azerkane, the principal Riffian negotiator, immediately requested Franco-Spanish permission for Haddou to return to the Riff tonight to obtain additional advice from Abd El Krim, the Riffian leader.

ILLNESS OF RICH PUBLISHER PROVES A BAFFLING ONE

CONFINES OGDEN T. McCLURG, MILLIONAIRE, TO HIS BED

FOUND LYING NEAR HIS AUTOMOBILE ON COUNTRY ROAD

Chicago, April 20.—(UP)—An illness which so far has baffled some of Chicago's leading medical experts, today confined Ogden T. McClurg, millionaire publisher and club man, to his bed.

McClurg was found lying beside his automobile on a country road near Chicago during the night. Passing motorists saw him and summoned a physician. Other doctors including one of Chicago's noted brain specialists, were called and as yet have been unable to definitely diagnose McClurg's case. Cerebral hemorrhage is believed to be the most likely cause of his plight.

The wealthy club man, head of the publishing firm of A. C. McClurg & Co., had a dinner engagement with Mrs. McClurg last night, but explained to his business associates he was ill and was going for a motor ride in an effort to dispel a headache. Several hours later he was found sitting by the side of the country road, his feet dangling in a pool of water. He was semi-conscious.

WOMEN VOTERS GO MODERATELY DRY AT ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, Mo., April 20.—(UP)—By a vote of 79 to 171 the National League of Women Voters convention went only moderately "dry" here today.

Delegates defeated a minority committee report, after an hour of debate, which would have put the League on record as unalterably opposed to any change in the eighteenth amendment.

The resolution adopted by the convention calls upon the state and federal officers for law enforcement and asks that the prohibition unit be put under civil service.

For the most part speakers representing extreme dry sentiment were from smaller towns and rural communities while those favoring the maderate stand were from the larger cities.

RADIO EXPERIMENTS IN RECORDING MUSIC AND ADDRESSES

New York, April 20.—(UP)—Experiments in the recording of music and addresses delivered over the progressed to a point which permitradio, on phonograph records, have ted the making last night of two experimental records, the Radior Corporation of America anounced today.

Francis R. Hoyt, consulting engineer of the radio corporation is in charge of the experiments.

One of the records made last night was of the speech of President Coolidge delivered at the D. A. R. convention in Washington. This speech was recorded through station WTAM Cleveland, Ohio.

DR. MAX SCHNELLER GIVEN CONTINUANCE

St. Paul, April 20.—(UP)—Dr. Max Schneller, alleged forger, was granted a continuance until tomorrow when arraigned in Ramsey county court today. He is expected to enter a plea.

WETS IN CRY AGAINST ENDING SENATE HEARING

SEN. REED WANTS SPECIAL SENATE JUDICIARY SUB-COMMITTEE NAMED

TO CONTINUE ON ITS OWN INITIATIVE INQUIRY INTO WET AND DRY LAWS

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, April 20.—The wets have decided to set up a cry against termination of the senate prohibition hearings which today entered the last ten of its 48 alloted hours.

Senator Jim Reed of Missouri, wet, will propose that the special senate judiciary sub committee continue on its own initiative an inquiry into wet and dry legislation, regardless of the 24 hours granted each side, the United Press is informed.

The record is garbled by clashing statistics of wets and drys, the committee has insufficient facts before it upon which to base a decision and evidence has been lft hanging in the air which should be probed, Reed believes.

The drys have indicated they will oppose the movement.

SELECTED FOR POST BY JUDGE E. H. GARY

Washington, April 20.—Frederick Baird, prohibition administrator for the western Pennsylvania district, caused a sensation in the senate prohibition committee today when he revealed that he was selected for his post by Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, and was receiving $12,000 a year from a Gary railroad coincident with his $50 0a month salary from the government.

Under cross examination by Sen. Reed, Missouri, democrat, wet, Baird said "the government" asked Gary to name a man and that Gary chose him.

The selection was made through the president of the Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad in which Baird was traffic manager, he said. The railroad was owned by Gary's United States Steel corporation, he added.

NEW ARCTIC EXPEDITION TO START NORTH

LED BY DONALD B. MAC MILLAN, VETERAN EXPLORER

ANNOUNCEMENT BY FIELD MUSEUM OF CHICAGO

Chicago, April 20.—(UP)—A new arctic expedition under the command of Donald B. MacMillan, veteran explorer of the polar seas, was announced today by the Field Museum. The expedition under present plans, will leave Wiscasset, Me., June 19, aboard MacMillan's ship Bowdoin. Ten men, none of them professional sailors, will compose the group of explorers, and a vessel contributed by Rowe B. Metcalf, wealthy business man of Providence, R. I., will follow as escort.

The first stop will be at Sydney, N. S., and the second at Battle Harbor, Labrador. Inland trips probably will be made from these points.

F. H. Rawson, wealthy Chicago banker, is financing the new expedition.

MacMillan has made nine previous trips into northern seas, his first being with Commander Robert Peary on his discovery of the north pole.

BOY OF 3 SETS FIRE TO BARN; BURNS TO DEATH

Watonka, S. D., April 20.—(UP)—Playing with matches, Phillip Hansen, 3 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Hansen, set fire to the barn on the Hansen farm near here, was trapped in the structure when the heavy door swung shut and burned to death. The building was in flames before the fire was noticed and there was no possibility of rescuing the lad.

PRESIDENT OF CHINA RESIGNS, LEAVES PEKING

TUAN CHI JUI REPORTED FLEEING TO TIEN TSIN

MANCHURIAN MILITARY GOVERNOR OPPOSED TUAN'S TENURE OF OFFICE

By RANDALL GOULD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Peking, April 20.—President Tuan Chi Jui is reported to have resigned and fled to Tien Tsin. Tuan consulted with his associates this morning regarding the unsettled conditions in Peking since the nationalist troops were expelled last week by the besieging coalitionists consisting of Manchurian troops and the armies of Li Ching Ling and Wu Pei Fu. It is understood that Chang Tso Lin, the Manchurian military governor, opposed Tuan's retention of the presidential office.

PRES. COOLIDGE OPPOSES FILM CENSOR BY NATION

ANY SUCH QUESTION ON FILMS IS STATE AND NOT FEDERAL ONE

AS GOVERNOR, COOLIDGE PREVIOUSLY PASSED ON PHASE IN MASSACHUSETTS

Washington, April 20.—(UP) — President Coolidge is opposed to a national censorship of films.

The white house spokesman let this be known today simultaneously adding that any such question was a state rather than a federal one. The chief executive, however, was pictured as believing the film industry had improved in recent years, particularly under the guidance of Will Hays, movie czar.

An inkling of the president's position, it was said, could be found in the veto of a Massachusetts movie censorship measure while he was governor, though this measure rested more on a constitutional question than on the merits of censorship itself.

Washington, April 20.—President Coolidge does not favor national censorship of moving pictures but believes that certain powers should be placed in the hands of state authorities.

The president's spokesman today pointed out that Mr. Coolidge while governor of Massachusetts vetoed a bill creating a state censorship board. He remarked, however, that the opposition was based on constitutional rights rather than on the merits of the pictures.

PRELIMINARY AGREEMENT ON FRENCH DEBTS

SEEK TO FUND $4,200,000,000 FRANCE OWES U. S. A.

BERENGER AND MELLON IN A CONFERENCE, BRIAND REPORTS

By A. L. BRADFORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, April 20. — Preliminary agreement for funding the $4,200,000,000 French debt to the United States has been reached by the French ambassador, Henri Berenger, and Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon, Premier Briand told the French cabinet today.

The agreement, Briand said, had not yet been signed. The premier laid the terms proposed in the preliminary agreement before the cabinet and they were unanimously ratified.

While Briand was reporting progress toward debt funding, the franc slumped to a new low record for all time on the local Bourse where $1 would buy 30.05 francs, compared with yesterday's closing quotation of 29.70.

Today was the fifth consecutive business day in which the franc had established a new low record. The record smashing slump began last Thursday.

Paris, April 20.—The franc established a second low record for all time today at 4 P. M. when $1 would buy 30.52 francs compared with the earlier quotation of 30.05, which had been set as a low record a few hours previous.

Washington, April 20.—Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon and the French ambassador, Henri Berenger, it was intimated today at the treasury, had reached a working basis for the funding of the French debt to the United States.

Mellon denied, however, that a tentative agreement has been reached. The treasury today put the gag rule into effect so far as information regarding the French debt was concerned.

TROOPS CONTROL HERRIN, ILL., AS THE TOWN VOTES

VARIOUS OFFICIALS SEEK PROTECTION OF THE TROOPS PRESENT

FEAR EXPRESSED OF RECURRENCE OF BLOODY RIOTING

Herrin, Ill., April 20.—(UP) — Troops patrolled the streets and polling places today as Herrin voters went to the polls to elect city aldermen.

Various state and city officials, following last Tuesday's disastrous election when six men were shot to death in a resumption of Klan and anti-Klan feud, sought protection of the troops at the four polling places. Fear had been expressed that the gathering of voters might be a signal for a recurrence of the bloody rioting which has existed here for the last six years. That bloody Williamson county is still in the grip of the feud was certain when it was reported here today that two houses belonging to Representative Bandy, long allied with Klan political conferences, had been burned.

CONVENTION SPLIT ON ISSUE OF PROHIBITION

St. Louis, April 20.—(UP)—The convention of the National League of Women Voters split here today on the prohibition issue. Excitement prevailed on the floor as delegates from every section of the country sought to express an opinion.

A minority committee report, which would put the league on record as opposing any change in the 18th amendment, caused the split.

NEW YORK STATE REFERENDUM ON MODIFYING DRY ACT

Albany, N. Y., April 20.—(UP)—A New York state referendum on the modification of the Volstead act next November was authorized today when the assembly passed the so-called Kerle bill by a vote of 87 to 62. The senate already had passed the measure and it will go to Governor Smith immediately.

The law authorizes a ballot on the proposal that the state specify what constitutes alcoholic content of an intoxicating beverage.

AVALANCHES OF LAVA FROM BELCHING CRATER

DEVASTATING RICH AGRICULTURAL LANDS IN HAWAII

MOTTLED RED AND GRAY TORRENT PRESSES ON TOWARD PLANTATIONS

Honolulu, T. H., April 20.—(UP)—Behind a pall of dense sulphur-lava smoke an avalanche of lava is crashing its way through the forests toward the rich agricultural lands on the Kau side of Mauna Loa.

Occasional rifts in the clouds give observing army aviators a glimpse of the mottled red and gray torrent as it presses on toward the deserted plantations.

Scientific observers are hampered by the smoke screen but from glimpses of the flashes of fire and new spurts of lava at the summit, they judge the eruption to be the most extensive in half a century.

Believing the new eruption the answer of Madame Pele, goddess of the volcano, to the supplications, natives are bewildered and frightened. They prayed, chanted and performed all the ancient pagan rites just before the destruction of Hoopuloa. Two hours after the rites ended, there was a deafening roar, an earthquake and new lava streams.

Portions of the rim of the craters including Kilauea, were shattered but Kilauea, "lake of fire," remains lavaless. Whatever happens back of the clouds may not be known for days. That forests are being destroyed is certain, for mingled with the fumes of sulphur is the odor of wood smoke.

20 ST. PAUL MEN FACE COMMISSIONER ON LIQUOR CHARGES

St. Paul, April 20.—(UP)—Twenty St. Paul men indicted in Cleveland for connections with an alleged national alcohol syndicate on charges of conspiracy appeared today before W. T. Goddard, United States commissioner.

Three others had their cases continued until tomorrow. Removal hearings for the twenty who did appear were continued until April 28, when A. E. Bernstein, United States district attorney at Cleveland, will be here to conduct proceedings for the state.

Attorneys for the indicted men threatened today to demand reading of the 50,000 word indictment under which the defendants are held. If the demand is granted removal proceedings would take at least a month.

MINNESOTA REGENTS CONDEMN LAND FOR THEIR STADIUM

Minneapolis, April 20.—(UP)—University of Minnesota regents filed notice of condemnation of a third of a block near the stadium here today.

The university already owns the other two-thirds and plans erection of a field house on the entire block if condemnation proceedings are successful.

FELL DEAD AS SHE SOUGHT WORK

Minneapolis, April 20.—(UP)—Mrs. Vivian Briggs, 30, carried her thirteen-months-old baby to the home of a friend here today for keeping while she sought employment. She fell dead just as she turned to leave the friend's home.

TRUCK FREIGHT COMPANIES SEEK PERMITS

WISH TO OPERATE 6,000 MILES OF SERVICE IN STATE

RAIL HEADS WILL NOT OPPOSE WHEN NO DUPLICATE SERVICE IS OFFERED

St. Paul, April 20.—(UP)—Compromise between rail and motor truck carriers in Minnesota was hinted today as hearings began at the state capitol on applications of 37 truck freighting companies to operate 6,000 miles of service.

A statement by Fred D. McCarthy, general attorney for the Northern Pacific railway, concurred in by the Omaha and St. Paul roads, said the rail carriers would not oppose permits to truck lines which do not duplicate freight service now offered by railroads.

None but the three roads took part in today's hearings. Testimony for the motor lines was presented by E. R. Weiss, owner of the Overland Express, operating between the Twin Cities and Stillwater. The line operated by John B. Bernier between the Twin Cities and Forest Lake will also be heard today.

Weiss testified that although motor truck rates are higher than rail rates, there is a demand for the service and it seems to fulfill a definite need. Hearings on all applications save the two were postponed one week.

The state railroad and warehouse commission is conducting the hearings. Following the sessions at the state capitol, hearings will be held at terminals of the various lines, it was said today.

SIX MEN, ENTOMBED SINCE SATURDAY NIGHT, STILL ALIVE

Quincy, Calif., April 20.—(UP)—Men's voices, filtering through a wall of earth, stone and fallen timbers, were heard today by rescue workers toiling desperately to reach six men entombed in a tunnel cave-in near here since Saturday night. It will be several hours before rescuers can dig through the five or six feet of earth and rock entombing the men.

GASOLINE MOTORED CARS TO SUPERSEDE STEAM LOCOMOTIVES

Freeport, Ill., April 20.—(UP)—Division officials of the Illinois Central Railroad company announced today that certain local passenger trains now operated with steam locomotives between Freeport and Dubuque, Iowa, and Freeport and Madison, Wis., will in a few weeks be replaced by gasoline motored cars of a new type.

FIRE DESTROYS RACING GRANDSTAND

Huntington, W. Va., April 20.—(UP)—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the grandstand in the Tristate racing park at Barbourville, today, necessitating suspension of the Huntington spring race meet. Park officials on leaving for the scene of the blaze said the suspension probably would be made permanent.

RUNDE ADMITS KIDNAPING A 6 YEAR OLD GIRL

Oshkosh, Wis., April 20.—(UP)—Fred W. Runde, 25, brought here last night from Madison, where he was arrested Sunday, early today admitted the kidnaping of Frances Webb, 6, Neenah, according to D. K. Allen, district attorney of Winnebago county. He will be arraigned before Judge A. H. Goss some time today.

WINTERED IN FLORIDA

R. D. Stitzel Writes G. W. Chadbourne of Experiences in the Land of Sunshine

In a letter to G. W. Chadbourne, R. D. Stitzel writes of his experiences in Florida. The Stitzels make their home at Little River, a suburb of Miami.

"We have enjoyed a wonderful winter down here and like it so well that we may stay through the summer; although we've been told that it gets pretty warm. In that case good old Crow Wing county may look pretty good to us, especially at the lake.

"Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bane left last week for Brainerd. They expect to visit in Northern Florida and at several points en route, so don't suppose they will get home before May 1st.

"Florida expects to entertain more visitors this coming summer than were here the past winter, due to the wonderfully low excursion rates offered by the railroads, and if this is true there is going to be a mob for the next few months.

"According to the enormous number of building permits already issued, Miami is to have a big building boom. People who bought lots here last fall evidently intend to improve their property. Ground was broken this week for a new Masonic temple in addition to a large one already in existence, and within a month a third one, to cost over a million dollars, will be started. There are a dozen or more Blue lodges here, Scottish Rite, York Rite and Shrine. Masonry is very strong all through the South."

Chimneys

From the days of the Henrys, strict laws were enforced to prevent ordinary people from attempting to "presume above their class"—by building a chimney! Only in a castle or a manor house was one allowed—and not more than one. Imagine chimneys being built of wood! Yet they were. According to the Liber Albus (White Book) of the city of London, it was found necessary in 1419 to enact "that no chimney be henceforth made, except of stone, tiles or plaster, and not of timber, under pain of being pulled down." Owing to the restrictions on the statute book, it was not till the time of Queen Elizabeth that chimneys had become commonplace.

Distinctive Trade Term

The term "rayon," as a generic name to be applied to all artificial silks, has come into quite general use, having been indorsed by many trade associations, and being applied by different producers to their products. The word is French, one of its meanings being a ray, as of light, and the thought in the minds of certain of those who sponsored it was that, being a term unknown to most of the English-speaking public, it would permit of no confusion in its use. It was believed that it could not be mistaken for anything else, and would still be applicable to the product as expressing its outstanding characteristic of luster.

Colored Musical Genius

"Blind Tom" was the name given to Thomas Greene Bethune. He was born blind and a slave, near Columbus, Ga., on May 5, 1849. He exhibited unusual musical talent before he was two years old, and played the piano when he was four. He was able to imitate birds, rain, thunder, etc., and could immediately play any selection after hearing it once. He appeared in his first concert when he was eight years old, and traveled extensively through America and Europe. He died July 3, 1908.

Brief Bootmaker

It was Thackeray who, when visiting Ireland, misunderstood the letters G.P.O. to mean "God Preserve O'Connell." But even in this age of letters, when newspaper readers are accustomed to decipher abbreviated form in news and advertisement columns, mistakes are easily made. A notice on a certain street door, for example, always excites interest. It runs: "J. X., B.S.M." Some rare university degree? No; merely an intimation that the occupant was a boot and shoe mender.

Hot Comeback!

The famous animal painter Verboeckhoven, who painted principally sheep and goats, once visited an English manufacturer. The pompous Briton said, with condescension:

"Are you the man who paints only stupid animals?"

"Yes," said Verboeckhoven, "why do you ask? Did you want someone to paint your portrait?"

China clings to its ancient method of dividing up the day, which differs from our western way. Instead of reckoning 24 hours to the day, the Chinese divide it into 12 parts, each of 2 hours.

Would Pick Up Roses in Life's Early Days

There is a great deal of head-wagging these days about the extravagance of the modern young folks. They are living beyond their means. They are mortgaging the future by buying on installments. They are laying up a lot of trouble for themselves in the dark days to come.

Undoubtedly part of this talk is sound. There will some day be a period of slow business in these United States, and a lot of annoying obligations will come due all at once. Many folks who are now having their good times will have to go through a few years of hard times before they can be happy again.

And those who have no courage will be broken.

All this is true. But the old-fashioned notion that the chief end in life is a steadily growing savings account, and that one must eliminate all pleasures from his vigorous years in order to prepare for possible want in old age—this notion is passing and should never return. Life is made to live and enjoy as we go along.

Cineas, the wise old philosopher, once asked Pyrrhus what he would do when he had conquered Italy. "I shall conquer Sicily." "And after Sicily?" "Then Africa." "And after you have conquered the world?" "I shall take my ease and be merry." "Then," asked Cineas, "why can you not take your ease and be merry now?"

Emerson had a friend who said that he would like to raise fruit enough so that there would be some to eat, some in the store, some to give away, some "to be robbed of," and some to rot on the ground. In other words, the habit of giving away, or even of wasting a bit of the good things of life, is just as important as the habit of storing up. For if one resists too long the impulse to give, or even to waste a little, the impulse will go away and he may whistle in vain for its return.

Somewhere between the oldtime thrift, that knew no virtue except self-denial, and the too easy spending of today there is a happy middle ground. We shall arrive at it in due course. Meanwhile, I for one am perfectly willing to let my old age run a reasonable risk. If self-denial is necessary I'll practice some of it when I'm old and not try to do all of it now. For who knows? I may never be old.—Bruce Barton in Collier's.

Speed of the Press

An aviator ascended at Los Angeles At a height of one mile his plane turned turtle and fell. The news that the aviator was falling to his death was flashing across the continent before his body had struck the ground.

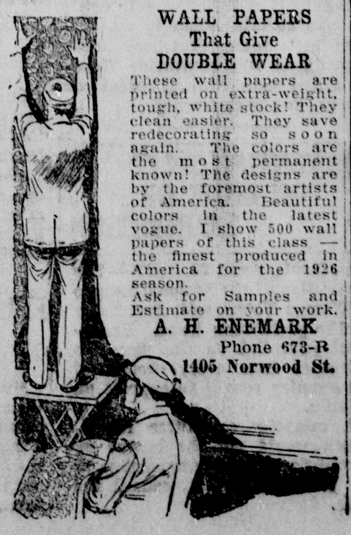

During the world series at Washington an Associated Press reporter dictated a running story, play by play, to an operator who transmitted it over an unbroken telegraph circuit of 40,000 miles stretching through the United States, and south to Havana. Before the ball from the bat of McNeely, whose clean hit ended the series, had rolled itself dead, a crowd in front of a bulletin board in Seattle knew the Senators had won.

On March 30, 1921, Cambridge defeated Oxford by a length in the annual boat race on the Thames. The words "Cambridge wins" were transmitted from the bank of the Thames to the news room of the Associated Press in New York in exactly 19 seconds.—Edward McKernon, superintendent of the eastern branch of The Associated Press, in Harper's Magazine.

Fireproof and Soundproof

The French have a new fireproof building material. It is cheap, light, durable, soundproof and made of straw. The straw is pressed into rectangular panels nine feet long by six feet wide and two inches thick, bound together by lengthwise wires about six inches apart. The heavy pressure under which the panels are constructed as well as the mineral content of the straw account for its being fireproof. Solomite, as it is called, was used extensively last summer on account of its easy handling properties in the construction of many of the buildings of the exposition of decorative arts at Paris. It has been found to work out very well as side walls, ceilings and partitions, offering a convenient surface for plaster and stucco. This type of construction has proved to be popular for summer cottages, while the soundproof qualities of the material have rendered it useful in the audition rooms of music stores.

Land of Endless Cold Unknowwn to Explorers

Northward beyond the tree limit is the land of endless cold, of eternal snow and ice—at least according to popular belief, and some textbooks still in use. But this story of eternal ice is an interesting myth. The facts of climate are quite different, says Tycos.

The Arctic winter is indeed long, dark, cold and stormy, but the actual number of inches of snowfall is less than in northern Virginia, for example. The cold, therefore dry, air of Arctic regions cannot produce much rainfall; in many places it is only ten inches or even less. The rainfall being light, the snow does not get very deep.

Believers in the snow-myth seem never to think of the intense heat of the Arctic summer, when the sun does double duty by shining also at night.

At 60 degrees north latitude the longest day has 18½ hours of sunshine. At 66 2-3 degrees north latitude, at the Arctic circle, the longest day has 24 hours of sunshine. At 70 degrees north latitude there are 73 days with continuous sunshine, unbroken save by clouds. At the pole there are six months of continuous daylight. Several hundred square miles of Arctic America have more than 30 days of continuous sun.

Buttons Made Change in World's Fashions

It is remarkable what small things have revolutionized the habits of the world. The change from the loose, flowing robes of the ancients to the fitted garments of these days is entirely due to the invention of the button.

Once the new fashion was established, many substances were pressed into service as materials for button making. Birmingham, England, has held its own as the most important center of the industry; and though Birmingham has a magnificent town hall, old inhabitants say that it would pay to pull it down and dig up the foundations, for it is built on a refuse heap of mother of pearl.

About the middle of the Nineteenth century the manufacture of pearl buttons was one of Birmingham's chief industries, and shells were brought in such quantities from the Pearl islands off the coast of Panama that manufacturers punched one or two buttons out of the best part of the shell and threw the rest away.

ROTARIANS TELL OF JOURNEYS

E. O. Webb Visited the Southland and Spent Some Time on the Island of Cuba

GEO. D. LABAR IN SOUTHWEST

Visited Kansas City, Dallas, Fort Worth, El Paso, H. F. Michael at Phoenix, Ariz.

Travelogs were the order of the day at the last meeting of Rotary. E. O. Webb told of his Cuban visit and George D. LaBar of his trip in the Southwest and out to H. F. Michael's orange grove.

Club visitors included Roger A. Bousher of the Northwest Finance Corporation of Minneapolis, Z. H. Havstok of the Ford Motor Co., Minneapolis branch, and Sumner Whitney, of Minneapolis, nephew of D. E. Whitney, who is with the Thayer & Beebe bond company of the Mill City.

Walter Cobban spoke of a new telephone line contemplated in the lake country and advised its connection with the Brainerd exchange and the matter was referred to the directors.

Carl Wright spoke of improved street lighting in the city, plans for extension of the white ways, etc., and called upon Carl Zapffe who gave a thorough exposition of the plans of the water and light board involving an expenditure of about $15,000 and including gradual discontinuance of the arc lighting at street intersections, succeeding it with two ornamental lamp posts and underground wiring. A complete review of the water and light board improvements contemplated, all without any tax levy or expense of taxpayers, has recently been published in the Dispatch.

On motion, made and carried, the Rotary went on record as favoring the improvements suggested and sponsored by the water and light board.

On Tuesday, April 20, the Rotarians will listen to reports made by those who attended the Grand Forks' convention.

E. O. Webb related his winter travels, leaving Brainerd January 25 and arriving in the Florida country at St. Petersburg, where a month was spent. He did not get the real estate bug. He played 18 holes of which seven were water hazards. Webb lost three balls. Much Spanish is spoken down south and he advised a study of the language.

A week was spent at New Orleans Then they sailed for Havana. They saw the sights there, then journeyed to Christobal, Colon, saw the Gatun locks, Gatun lake, had a look at the Pacific coast.

George D. LaBar told of his trip. It was all on American soil. From the Twin Cities they went to Kansas City, then south to Dallas. The cleanliness of the city impressed them as well as the fine public buildings and hotels. The city is a distributing center for Texas oil, cotton and ranch products. From Fort Worth they went to El Paso, where an atmosphere of Mexico pervades the buildings and town layout. They saw the Guggenhem smelters. Two huge smokestacks were visible in a town across the border, one being that of a distillery and the other a brewery. At Globe, Arizona, busses took them over the trail to the Roosevelt dam.

From there they went to Fish Creek, ascending 1,600 feet in two miles. Signs greet you everywhere, saying "Stop, How are Your Brakes." The driver took the corners at high speed. Through Phoenix they motored to H. F. Michael's ranch. The country is assured rich crops because of its comprehensive scheme of irrigation. Crop of lettuce alone amounts to $837,000 annually.

The Michael ranch is near the foothills and is good land. Mr. Michael is full of pep and was glad to see some one from home. The climate is wonderful and the slogan is "The Sun Parlor of the U. S." for this section of Arizona.

From Arizona they went to California and were convinced that development of that state has not been checked by any rush to Florida.

"Saving Is the Difference Between Success and Failure."

President Coolidge has said that "Every one knows that it is not what is earned but what is saved which measures the difference between success and failure."

The saving of money is inborn with some people. They make every dollar perform its fullest duty. Others acquire the ability to save money and it becomes a habit with them.

Buying inferior goods because they are cheap is not thrift. It is wasteful because the service is correspondingly short.

The way to decide "where savings are greatest" is first to look into the ability of the store to buy right; then the reputation of the store for selling right.

The buying power of this store is tremendously increased because of the co-operative buying for all the Stores of this Nation-wide Organization. This advantage is your advantage each time you buy from us. And paying cash you enjoy an added saving.

THE CALL OF THE NORTH

"THE Call of the North" is a new magazine we noticed on the stands at the Service News Agency. "Dutch" Strout called our attention to it and mentioned it had a reference to Brainerd.

The Staring people of Minneapolis are developing a summer home colony on the Mississippi to the east of Lum park and under the heading "Pine Shores, Brainerd," this mention is made of the city:

"Pine Shores, Brainerd, is a Staring development and truly worthy of the name. A beautiful pine wooded shore three miles from Brainerd, a thriving city of Northern Minnesota and named in honor of David Brainerd, an American missionary among the Indians of Massachusetts.

"Brainerd is the county seat of Crow Wing county, and is situated on the east bank of the Mississippi river about 127 miles northwest of the Twin Cities and has a population of about 11,000. Brainerd is served by the Northern Pacific and state highways Nos. 27, 18 and 19 and there is daily bus service connecting with the principal cities of the state."

The magazine is well printed and illustrated and is published in Minneapolis. The magazine aims a service of helpfulness for Minnesota. "The biggest discovery of the twentieth century is in the soundness of the principle of live and let live. Instead of fighting to undermine competitors, men co-operate to promote the general prosperity. The growth of the habit of mutual helpfulness during the last few years is one of the remarkable developments of American life," says the magazine in its introduction.

"The Call of the North Magazine was established with this feeling of helpfulness as its guiding influence, and to promote the best interests of the state by publishing clean stories of its people, the activities of the social and civic bodies and news of importance from every section, accompanied by illustrations and views.

"The Call of the North is Minnesota's magazine. It will use every effort to attract the tourist to the Land of Ten Thousand Lakes."

Among the articles in the April issue are sketches of "St. Paul, Capital of the Land of Ten Thousand Lakes"; Grand View Lodge, The Great Lakes and Minnesota, Up the Minnesota River, Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs, Playing Host to Millions, Resort and Travel, Indian Portage, etc.

Grand View Lodge covers a two-page article embellished with three beautiful scenes of the woods on Gull lake, the main lodge of the resort, etc.

The introduction of the Grand View article reads:

"Up in the big pine country of Minnesota, 140 miles north of the twin cities and 15 miles north of Brainerd and three miles from the station of Nisswa, on the Northern Pacific railway, lies Gull Lake Park, admirably situated on the north shore of Gull Lake. It is a large unusually beautiful pine timbered tract of several hundred acres.

"Gull Lake is the larger of a wonderful chain of connected lakes and lakelets thirty-five miles in length and has in all about 100 miles of shore line. Gull Lake proper is 12 miles in length with a width of from one to three miles. It is surrounded with pine clad hills and is spoken of as the Queen of Minnesota's 10,000."

A more detailed description of fish and other resources follows. Publicity is accorded Brainerd's golf course in the concluding paragraph:

"A nine hole golf course operated by the Brainerd Country club, a 20 minute drive from the Lodge, is at the disposal of Grand View guests. A modest green fee is charged and a professional is in charge of the grounds. The entire course is fringed with northern pines and with the high altitude offers a crisp dry atmosphere which with the tonic of the pines is highly invigorating and health giving to lovers of this sport."

U. S. AIR MAIL SERVICE

THE United States now has the most extensive and efficient air mail service in the world. Twelve air mail lines extend to the four corners of the United States and connect with the transcontinental air mail line from New York to San Francisco.

These are now practically assured of operation and mail planes over all these routes will fly more than 16,000 miles a day. Every day our lines of communication are being strengthened. The most far flung communities are joined with the most populous ones.

Rails, wires, cables, radio, waterways, highways, air mail all do their part to make our nation an indivisible one. Pretty soon a man won't be able to frame an excuse for being late to dinner, for Friend Wife will have a line on it before the man of the house gets home.

LOSE BEARINGS IN THE KNOWN WORLD

THE Norge sailed for the far north, but according to our version, the big dirigible did not make an auspicious start. It got lost in the fog for hours while sailing over known land. Radio was employed to straighten out the course of the big airship.

There is fog over the north pole too and one wonders what will happen to the expedition when they lose what bearings they have while attempting to explore brand new country.

MATRIMONY is being encouraged at Pequot. The Royal Neighbors want to give an attractive wedding ceremony to any couple who will be married publicly in the Woodman hall Saturday evening, May 1. They will pay the clergyman's fees and license, and merchants will give the couple gifts for the new home.

AT a meeting held at the Ironton village hall sportsmen organized a Cuyuna Range Game Protective League. Officers elected were President M. F. Crosby, or Crosby; Vice President W. J. Cameron, Crosby; Secretary H. W. Bolder, Ironton; Treasurer D. R. Sandstrom, Ironton.

A FOREIGNER who risked his life for the United States should be allowed to live here. He should make a good citizen. There are about 5,000 of these who may be admitted as "non-quota immigrants" if a bill now before the senate becomes a law.

JOHN R. KENNEDY, Northern Pacific fireman who fell into the bay at Duluth and was drowned Sunday, was well known in Brainerd where he had many friends who regret his demise.

Conrad Nagel and Eleanor Boardman in "Memory Lane"

Star Glorifies Nation's Girlhood in "Memory Lane," New Picture at Lyceum

Young womanhood of America ought to stand up as one and give Eleanor Boardman a vote of thanks for what she has done for them. Eleanor, a typical American girl, has devoted herself entirely during the last two years to convince a sceptical public that her prototype possesses intelligence and charm. In "Memory Lane," her latest picture, which is showing at the Lyceum tonight and Wednesday, she goes far in proving her point. "Memory Lane" has been called the sweetest screen story ever told.

Sunday Schools Awakening

To Editor Dispatch:

In this northern country after a long cold winter, the first appearance of spring is hailed with delight by every one. But I believe that the boys and girls in the country communities where the Sunday schools are obliged to close for the winter months, hail the first appearance of spring with greater delight than any one else.

That long looked for Sunday has come at last when the Sunday school is to open, and how the boys and girls swarm in on that first Sunday, every face glowing with joy and gladness. Talk about enthusiasm, as I look into their little faces just beaming with expectancy, it sends me on with double speed to the next neighborhood, where another group of little folk are waiting for the Sunday school to start.

I have never seen better interest in Sunday school work, than has been in evidence every where I have gone since March 1st. And what a privilege it is to gather them in, and aid in the Master's plea for childhood. "Suffer the children," or give them a chance to come unto Me.

Yours respectfully,
W. J. SMITH,
American Sunday School
Union Missionary.

Marriage Risks

An elderly and a young member of a certain club met in the smoking room.

"I hear, Mr. Jones," said the former, "that you are going to be married shortly. I hope you will be very happy."

Tonight's Vaudeville Bill at the New Park

The following is a brief description of the five act vaudeville bill at the New Park tonight. Wright and Vivian will present a very neat juggling act, with comedy all through their act.

Ralph Rickus the second act impersonates some of the leading screen stars in character. He has a wonderful voice which helps him in his impersonations.

Mildred Joyce Revue consisting of five good looking girls present an exceedingly large variety of dance numbers. Miss Joyce is an exceptional good solo dances. The act is beautifully costumed and they carry their own stage setting. This is one of the best dance acts sent over the circuit this season.

George Hunter is the comedian of the show. He does a black face on the Al Jolson style and is a scream. He tells stories, sings songs, and does a few steps that keep the audience in a constant uproar.

The fifth and last act, is Harry Sykes and Co. who do a cycle riding act. Duluth claims this is the best act of its kind seen there this season.

The feature picture for tonight is "Ship of Souls" the last of Emerson Hough's famous novels. Bert Lytell and Lillian Rich are starred.

SEMPER PARATUS CLUB ENJOYS BIG BANQUET THURSDAY AT HIGH SCHOOL

Basket Ball Men Were Guests of Honor at the Function

Last Thursday evening the sewing room was the scene of a delightful banquet which was attended by the members of the Semper Paratus club and of the faculty, and by the basket ball boys. The lovely decorations and the beautifully appointed tables, which had been taken care of with much capability by Kathleen O'Brien, were the object of many favorable comments. Ferne Lowe, in charge of the preparation of the dinner and the many other duties which, being chairman of a refreshment committee entails, conducted matters with her usual efficiency and the results were certainly fully appreciated.

Stewart Gile opened the program with an address of welcome to our trophy winning basket ball team and its coach, Mr. Beresford. Following this was the singing of a group of amusing songs by all of the guests. Ray Nicholson directed these songs with a real director's vigor and capability, while Miss Lohr acted as accompanist. Victor Burgeois next played a violin selection which his audience enjoyed very much. The vocal numbers by Bernice Samuelson were applauded as her singing always is. Angela Untereker read a poem depicting the lives of Semper Paratus members in the future. It was a very interesting poem and was read in a pleasing manner by Angela. A humorous debate between Edna Turner and Helen Paine came next and kept the audience in an uproar with its exceedingly clever lines. The next number was a semi-acted reading of "The Taming of the Shrew." Katherine Staub gave the explanations between scenes. The cast was as follows:

Baptiste, the fatner—Henry Nolan.

Bianca, the daughter—Viola McKay.

Katherine, the shrew — Lucille Roark.

Lucientio, Bianca's lover—Verne McNamara.

Tailor—Alan Johnson.

Haberdasher—Howard Gile.

One of the things which helped to make the Semper Paratus banquet such a decided success was the collection of original, appropriate songs, the words of which were written by Miss Oerting, and which were sung by all those present to well-known tunes. "My Name is John Tribur" sung to the tune of "My Name is Yon Yonson" — was perhaps the greatest favorite because of its clever allusions to the basket ball players and to Mr. Beresford. Here it is:

My Name is John Tribur

My name is John Tribur;
I'm made of strong fiber,
To work on de team over here.
All de students I meet,
When I help dem to beat,
Dey say, "Vat have you von over here?"
Und I tell 'em

My name is young Marshall,
To me girls are partial;
I work on de team all for dem.
And dey smile to me sweet,
Fen de ball I trow fleet,
Dey say, "Fy don't I look back at dem?"
Und I tell 'em

My name is Cal Orth, ya,
I did sally forth, ya,
To yump for de team over here.
All de people I meet,
Fen I go down de streets,
Dey say, "Fen vil you play over here?"
Und I tell 'em

My name is Kent Whitlock,
De ball by de school clock.
Fen I go down de street,
Dey say, "Ya, a small villon is here."
Und I tell 'em

My name is Lee Av'ry,
I smell something sav'ry
From de team dat vorks for us here.
All de people vil eat,
Fen dey bring on de meat,
Dey say, "Vat do you vant over here?"
Und I tell 'em

Let's Eat!
Which everybody did!

Miss B. (to 7th period Eng. class) "You're the noisiest class I have."

M. C. (whom Miss B. teaches in A. M also): "You told us that this morning."

Teacher: "Jane, who followed Charles VI?"

Jane: "Mary."

Teacher: "And who followed Mary?"

Dorothy (absent-mindedly): "Her little lamb."

Attention Juniors!!!

Does each Junior realize that he or she has to pay full years dues namely $3.00 before being eligible for the Junior, Senior Banquet. Every student took the standing vote to pay $3.00 last September, if you didn't intend or couldn't afford to pay it why didn't you object. You brought it on yourselves, now act! Only seven Juniors have paid up to date. A nice standing to be publishing for student observation. Not one Junior member will be allowed at the Banquet unless full dues is paid. Can't you fulfill your only Class Duty?

Old Faithful

Not the geyser, not the—Oh, wait a while; you'll find out. "Always on time, always waiting always here when you want me" seems to be his motto. Originally his coat was also the color of the geyser's steam, but not it is rather, well—ah, darkened! That's it. One night vulgarly say that he is dirty, but that might hurt his feelings. He is friendly without being too much so, thereby retaining his dignity. Once in a while though he is drawn forth from his inner self and just can't resist running after the shouting at one of the great, haughty giants that goes by. Then humbly trotting back he receives his master's scolding and is again his former self. His only recognition of strangers is sniff which he nochalantly gives.

This does, I believe, partly explain the who, what, where and why of this animal, namely: Hubba, a dog, somewhere on the school premises, and living for many reasons. He is getting to be a much seen character and may always be recognized by his (formerly) white coat, black head, and most important his wise and dignified look.

Prologue I

Seniorio—Stewart G.

Juniorio—Ray Anderson.

Scrubio Sophomore — Rolland Bentley.

Cleanupio Freshman—Harry Purdy.

Pennantio—Kenneth Olthoff.

FIRST SCENE

Pennantio—Sewing.

Scrubio enters, announcing Scenario.

Scrubio—My Lord Scenario, my Ladio.

Seniorio (kissing her hand)—Everything is in readinessio for our elopementio tonitio, my dovio. The horses will be readio at the postern gatio as the hour strikes twelvio.

Pennantio (her hand over her heart)—Oh, have youio no feario of our being discoveredio?

Seniorio—Assuredly notio, my dovio, nothing but deathio could partio us nowio. (He arises and bowing, says) I will come for youio as the clock strikes twelvio. Be in readiness. Adieuio until we meet againio. (exeunt).

Pennantio (rises) — Methinksio that my frightio will betray meio. (exeunt also).

SCENE II

Scrubio — Hist! Hearist thouio what our ladio doth planio?

Cleanupio — S'blookio I fainio would stopio this vile plotio to oust poor Juniorio.

S.—Hark thee, methinksio I heario foostepsio approaching on horseback io. (bell rings).

C.—Would t'were Juniorio.

S—Haste theeio and seeio.

Juniorio enters. C. and S. grab him by one arm.

Enter Pennantio (bows)—I am the lovely damselio called Pennantio —all yeario I sat aloneio in my watch towerio, longing forio the dayio when my true lovie shall comio a riding up the roadio of my castlio and withio featsio of armsio woo me and win meio. May the dayio soon comeio whenio I may give my selfio to him as my bridio.

Seniorio—I am Seniorio, ruler of greatio and wonderfulio realmio of the Graduatesio. I havio searched far and widio for a bridio to share my thronio. Far away there dwellsio the lovely Pennantio, who shall be my bridio: come what mayio, no manio shall keep me from my ladio.

Juniorio—I am Juniorio, second son of the kings of the greatest classio in the schoolio. My familio have sent me offio to find a wifio to shareio the thronio when my brother shall dieio. But alasio, I am only a younger sonio, and I feario I shall not find herio. But courage, perhapsio some day I may meet a ladio who will be my wifio. Help me with your thoughtsio.

Sophomore—I am Scrubio, servant to the lovely lady Pennantio, who sighsio in her towerio for a loverio. Were I but a manio, I should tryio to win her handio myselfio. I would fightio all dayio, but alasio, all I can doio is help her true lovio.

Freshman—I am Cleanupio, maidio to Pennantio, who lovio her dearlio, but must sighio and lookio out of the windowio for the dayio when her true lovio comes ridingio up the hillio to ask for her fair handio.

Juniorio—How fario my Ladyio?

S.—Ah, dire forebodingsio await theeio.

C.—Heario ye, our mistress plansio an elopement this niteio with Seniorio.

Juniorio—O Kitchen scullions! How dario ye lieio to meio?

S.—'Tis not but the truthio. I swear it.

J.—Impartio unto me moreio of thy gleaningsio.

C.—As we listened behindio yon screenio, we did heario Sir Seniorio planio to elopio with our lady toniteio.

J.—Egadio, this cannot beio. Somethingio must must be doneio to stop themio.

S.—If thou wiltio but hidio thyselfio behind yon screenio until Sir Seniorio enters thou canst slayio him and have the fair damsel for thyselfio.

J.—Foorsoothio, methinksio this plan holds waterio. (Maids take him behind screen).

SCENE III

F.—Oh, would that my suspensio were endedio.

Seniorio—Hist! Art thou readio?

P.—Ah me, let us withdrwaio at oncio.

S.—Come then—follow silentlio.

(Out dashes Juniorio, stabs him through the heart—he falls and J. takes P. by the hand).

J.—Ah, my heart's desirio, thou art mine at lastio.

Finis.

Teacher: "Why don't you write on the exams?"

Freshie: "I got a sore throat."

"ONCE IN A BLUE MOON" TO BE GIVEN AT THE NEW PARK MONDAY, MAY 3

The date for the operetta, "Once in a Blue Moon," has been set for May 3rd at the New Park Theatre. It is a very modern production, very tuneful, with party costumes and twinkling feet. Following are the members of the cast:

Moon Lady—Esther Bentley.

Mrs. Montgomery—Gladys Holvick —the hostess.

Sylvia Montgomery—Bernice Samuelson—her daughter.

Leatrice Montgomery — Margaret O'Brien—Her daughter.

George Taylor—Leland Avery — Alias Bob Harrington.

Billy Maxwell—Ernest Lively — A victim of circumstances.

Mrs. Lavender—Lucille Roark — still in mourning.

Babbitt Morton—Russel Putz — A home town booster.

Betty Morton—Marjorie Oberst—His daughter.

Rene Le Mon—Ellis King; Sir Percival Chetwood — Bartley Eckholm—Pseudo Plenipotentiaries.

Hop Sing—Donald Marshall—the house man.

Suzanne—Doris MacDonald—The French maid.

Skylark Roames—Stewart Gile—A detective.

Mooney—Bernard Mraz—A policeman.

Girls' Gym

Cries and shrieks rent the air. They were so piercing, so agonizing, so painful, that even the hardest hearted people were moved almost to tears. No one dared to go to the window to see the event take place. Everyone was curious to see it, but all were too fearful of the sight. While everybody listened, a blow was heard, then more shrieks. No doubt, a murder was taking place. Finally someone summoned up enough courage to go to the window and look out. He was so interested that soon the whole class was at the windows watching the girls in a gym class playing baseball.

EQUAL RIGHTS TO THE FORE!

It is not only the Literary Digest and other prominent periodicals that lay at the door of woman all the ills that man is heir to. From the days of old man has laid the blame for all his troubles at the hands of the so-called weaker sex. True to tradition the boys in Mr. Beresford's Social Problems class asserted that modern divorce is due to womans lack of ability to cook and keep house. The ladies protested and proved their ability be planning and cookink a meal unassisted and unadvised.

The table was prettily decorated, the food well-cooked, tastily arranged and abundant. No man went away hungry. The ladies, however, were medieval and not modern in that they waited on their lords and masters and entertained them by a program instead of claiming their prerogative of sitting at the table.

After the food was entirely consumed, the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Cobb, Miss Tornstrom and Mr. Beresford were called on to talk and to judge. Mr. Beresford commended their enthusiasm and seriousness in carrying out the project, and gave reminiscences of his own youthful enthusiasms.

There was no criticism of the banquet. The only flaw in the proceeding was that the boys had not put the girls on an allowance for the affair, and so could not tell whether or not they were living within their incomes.

The Drinking Fountain

Some time ago someone with a feeling of sympathy for the Brainonian and an idea took it upon himself to inscribe a small epistle on embroidered tar paper or some such material, which espistle was intitled "The Drinking Fountain" and had to do with the inability of the third floor fountain to deliver the goods, and the inconvenience of coming down to the second floor to quench their thirst.

Well, I, having no ideas at all and being perfectly willing to swipe one, have, with the financial and moral support of Mr. Swanson and Mr. Giles, whose abilities as plumbers have been defiled by astericks, took my pencil in my right mitt and set about to give the reasons for the said inability of said fountain to fount.

The water which bubbles forth quite freely on the first floor, and likewise on the second, after climbing from the basement to the second floor, finds its way impeded by sundry Beuno Bar wrappers, chewing gum advertisements, the gum itself, and paper coatings for various popular candies, and if it tries at all to push past these obstacles it soon grows dizzy from close contact with bright colors and falls back to the second floor, and what does reach the goal is too tired to gush forth very voluminously. However, if you are an ardent lover of clear, cold water you might supply yourself with one of the qt. size canteens or, as many people are advising lately, "get on the waterwagon."

Gee! I certainly don't know anything to write about this week, in fact I can't think of nothin' atall. Spring sure is one engagin' lady an' nothin' else an' she's charmin' me wonderful; why, you'd think I'd took pills, hardly keep my eyes open for five minutes straight. She sprung one on me, awright, don't feel like doin' nothing and wouldn't do it if I did, spring fever's afflictin' me so bad. You feel like that? You might as well quit then. You can't study an' you won't even try. Lakes opening up, trees budding, grass getting green, spring throwing her annual style show done in natural colors; boy, she has done beckoning; she has got you an' is neckin' you to death.

BIG PARTY FOR VISITING TEACHERS

Royalty could scarcely have been greeted with more pomp and cheering than Miss Larsen and Miss Jorandby were upon their arrival here last Friday. The lobby of the Ransford hotel looked like another Elks' convention. The only thing lacking in the reception was a brass band.

After the salutations were over, the guests were carried in state in Peanut Periman's car to the home of Gladys Holvick where a luncheon was partaken of. Talk and laughs prevailed until the wee small hours of the morning when it was deemed necessary to go home and rest up for the next days' activities.

Saturday afternoon Miss Larsen and Miss Jorandby were entertained at a picnic on Ahren's hill. Although the party was supposed to be strictly feminine, Koop and Fritz came out to build the fire and help roast the wieners and incidentally (?) got in on the "feed." As the sun was setting over the western hills, the party broke up and it was the end of a perfect day.

Everybody went to Sunday school the next day because the Misses E. S. Larsen and Jorandby were to be the . The Sunday school boasted 10 per cent attendance. After church they were entertained at dinner at the home of Miriam Michael.

After riding about town, Mr. Johnson gave the gang call and all three former B. H. S. teachers departed amidst a chorus of goodbyes and h'd'k'fs fluttered until they were out of sight.

CELEBRATE JANITOR'S 25TH ANNIVERSARY

Last Thursday marked the twenty-fifth anniversary of Martin Swansons arrival at the high school in the capacity of janitor, the end of twenty-five years of faithful service. During those years his interest has been much wider than that of keeping the building clean, for it has reached out and rejoiced o'er the progress of the students, and sorrowed over their lapses from grace.

To celebrate the day all the students were called into the assembly, where applause and rousing cheers were given for him. The faculty presented him with a dozen roses and an envelope containing $25, one for each year of service. Mr. Swanson, although speechless at the time of the prezentation wishes to show his gratitude to the faculty for the flowers and other gifts and to the students for their part in the program.

INDIVIDUAL JUNIOR PICTURES IN ANNUAL

To make the Brainonian "Bigger and Better" this year the Juniors are going to have individual pictures instead of the usual group pictures. To do this of course is more expensive and will cost fifteen cents extra for every Junior for just one picture. However the arrangement with Mr. Gorham is that if every Junior wishes a half dozen of his own picture, it will be forty cents. As all the Juniors are anxious to have individual pictures at this reasonable price, they will be taken Wednesday.

Spring Football

For the first time we are having spring football practice in B. H. S. Among those who responded to the call for practice were Capt. Russel Putz, Buscher, Fitzharris, Welliver, Koop, Tinkelpaugh, Hautala and many other worthy players.

The first practice consisted of kicking, passing and short sprints, but the coming week will find the boys in a harder workout. The hopes for a strong football team next year are bright, with plenty of reserve men for the backfield positions. Among the new men who will probably be on the team next year are Lowe, DeRocher, Hautala and Fitzharris.

Baseball

Coach Rosel issued the call for baseball recruits last week and about twenty-five men responded. Among those were six men with previous experience on the team, Tribur, Avery, Marshall, Handson, Lowe, and Van Walk. Although there is but one week till the opening game with Crosby there, no positions have as yet been captured, but Van Walk will probably do the most of the twirling. Among the other candidates for positions on the team are Whitlock, "Oosker" Lawrenz, Wise, Backen, Chapman, and Eckholm. It must be remembered that under the coaching of Mr. Rosel, Brainerd won the district championship two years ago, so the fans can expect to see a snappy team on the field.

Who, What, Where

Miss Ersted was out of school yesterday with the mumps. Mrs. Stone substituted for her.

Mr. Johnson, our former chemistry teacher, was visiting Mr. Shaumburg over the week end. We are glad to se he still finds Brainerd attractive.

RICKARD'S LICENSE HANGS IN BALANCE

BOXING BODY OF NEW YORK IS MILITANT ONE

DEAD SET AGAINST DEMPSEY-TUNNEY MATCH PROPOSED

RICKARD CLAIMS HE IS ONLY A HIRED MAN OF A CORPORATION

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, N. Y., April 20.—(UP)—Tex Rickard's license as a promoter will be declared null and void for boxing if he persists in negotiating for a heavyweight championship match between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney.

The New York boxing commission has been handling the involved heavyweight case on the theory that a warning would suffice to prevent Rickard from arranging a match in which Harry Wills was not the challenger, but more severe punishment has been decided on now. The new and more definite turn in the situation, developed by the announcement that Rickard was in Fort Worth to sign Dempsey for a bout against the former marine, will be discussed at today's meeting of the commission.

Several weeks ago after Gene Tunney announced that he had signed an agreement with Rickard to meet Dempsey, the commission summoned Jess McMahon, Rickard's matchmaker, and asked him about it.

McMahon said that no articles had been signed and that merely an understanding had been reached.

When Rickard heard of the warning against a Dempsey-Tunney match, he said he would stage it in his Jersey City stadium if the commission would not tolerate it in New York.

The commission replied with a threat that his license would be revoked and the doors of the Garden padlocked. Rickard said he was not a licensed promoter and was merely an employe of a corporation, but the commission said the threat went for his employers as well.

Rickard was given to understand some time ago that the commission would not stand for a match that would crowd Wills out and he said he was figuring on reducing the boxing program to a minimum in the Garden, but this was accepted as a gesture of defiance because boxing is considerable of a dividend maker in the Garden.

Unless the commission is influenced to take a back flop, the only way out of it for Rickard will be to make it profitable for Wills to withdraw his challenge and wait until Dempsey and Jack Kearns, his former manager, get out of the dispute over their contract.

Rickard, according to a close friend, is prepared to pull on ace on the commission. He will flash a contract Dempsey and Wills signed to meet for a western syndicate and show that the syndicate failed to live up to its end of the contract, through no fault of Dempsey's.

GENE TUNNEY LOGICAL ONE TO MEET DEMPSEY

TEX RICKARD GIVES INTERVIEW WHILE AT FORT WORTH, TEXAS

NEGOTIATIONS FOR FIGHT CARRIED ON AT FORT WORTH OR IN DALLAS

Fort Worth, Texas, April 20.—(UP)—Gene Tunney is the logical opponent for the next ring appearance of Jack Dempsey, Tex Rickard said here today as he awaited the arrival of the champion from El Paso for a conference.

Negotiations will be carried on either here or in Dallas. The champion left El Paso last night and is expected to reach Fort Worth late today. Rickard arrived late Monday. All arrangements have been made by telegraph, Rickard said, for a bout between the champion and Tunney in Yankee Stadium in August or September, but it remains to get Dempsey's name on the dotted line.

"There is little comparison between Harry Wills and Tunney," Rickard said. "Tunney has the height, weight and youth in his favor over Wills. Dempsey also believes Tunney is a more dangerous opponent," the promoter said. "Dempsey has shown a preference to fight Wills in favor of Tunney in past dealings," Rickard said. "Last year Wills refused $150,000 for a bout with Dempsey. Now I believe Tunney should be given a chance," he declared.

Dempsey in a series of statements, has declared his willingness to take on either Wills or Tunney, "if proper arrangements are made."

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's Hero—Bob McGraw, pitching his first game of the season, held the Phillies to five little hits and the Robins won 4 to 2.

The Giants had no trouble hitting Rosy Ryan in the pinches and beat the Braves, 8 to 3.

After Lefty Groves had dropped them, 3 to 1, in the morning game, the Red Sox came back and beat the Athletics 2 to 1.

The Indians knocked Ted Blankenship out of the box and beat the White Sox, 5 to 1.

Emerging from two ties in the ninth and the 11th innings, the Cubs went out in the 14th and beat the Cards 5 to 4.

Carl Mays was in fine form and the Reds took another fall out of the Pirates 2 to 1.

Gaston struggled ot of several bad holes and pitched the Browns to a 4 to 1 victory over the Tigers.

Taking the measure of the Kaws in a free for all slugging contest by a score of 16 to 10, the Colonels stepped into the lead in the American association.

Minneapolis went down before the Mudhens in another slugfest, 13 to 10, the Hens registering 16 hits to 10 for the Millers. Duncan of Minneapolis polled his fifth homer of the season.

Hitting in the pinches the Saints made their 11 safeties count and defeated the Senators 6 to 5.

The Indians pounded the Brewers early and sent them down to defeat 5 to 1.

RUNS FIRST MARATHON AND WINS IN SPRINT

JOHN C. MILES OF SIDNEY MINES, N. S., DEFEATS FIELD OF 88

INCLUDED SUCH MEN AS STENROOS OF FINLAND AND OTHER TOPNOTCHERS

Boston, April 20.—(UP)—Running the first marathon race of his life, John C. Miles of Sydney Mines, N. S., finished in front of a field of 88 runners, which included such men as Albin Stenroos of Finland, and Clarence De Mar of Melrose, when he clipped four minutes off the old world's record in the 13th running of the Boston W. A. marathon. Miles' time was 2:25:40 1-5.

It was a two man contest from the start, Miles and Stenroos. Miles drew away from the field five miles from the starting point and pounded along on the heels of Stenroos until the beginning of the last five miles. Then he started a sprint which carried him home a winner by almost a quarter of a mile.

Cool and sweet as mountain air

HAVE you ever stood in the pine-fringed hills and tasted the wonderful mountain air? Then you know something of that cool, sweet taste of Prince Albert in a jimmy-pipe. There's promise in it . . . the feeling that everything's going to be all right from now on.

Prince Albert is more than a promise. It's a fulfilment! Just tuck a load of this wonderful tobacco into the bowl of your jimmy-pipe and light up. Pull that cool, comforting smoke deep down into your system and see the sun come out!

Every perfect puff tells you that here is the most genuinely friendly tobacco that ever tumbled into a briar. Friendly? Yes . . . friendly to your tongue and to your general disposition. P. A. can't bite and it can't parch, because the Prince Albert process won't let it!

Get yourself a tidy red tin of P. A. this very day. Throw back the hinged lid and revel in the fragrance of real tobacco. Then pack a load into your jimmy-pipe and light up. Get that taste that only Prince Albert can give you!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

PRINCE ALBERT

—no other tobacco is like it!

CITY COUNCIL HAS STRENUOUS SESSION

Erick Graff Situation Holds Center of the Stage Last Night

LOSES ONE JOB, GETS ANOTHER

G. S. Swanson, Attorney for Graff, Presents Client's Case to Council

Zowie, wotta council meeting. Last night's council meeting will go down in the annals of Brainerd as one of the hottest meetings in the history of the Brainerd city council when the aldermen doffed their masks of office, forgot pretty speeches, were just plain individuals and had it out. The Erick Graff situation, of his discharge as captain of police of Brainerd by Mayor George A. Cain, started the fireworks, Mayor Cain winning in the first round by having Graff discharged, but being floored for the count when the council by the vote of eight to two gave Graff the office of Fire inspector and watchman, in the employ directly under the city, an office heretofore not recognized by the city council.

On the question of the Graff appointment, Alderman Martin Anderson, and Alderman Lewis of ward two voted against the apointment while Aldermen W. J. Lyonais, Christ H. Elvig, V. F. Anderson, C. G. Holmstrom, Andrew Wesley, Ernest Ritari, and R. H. Paine, and V. E. Quanstrom voted in favor.

On the question of the appointment of Roy Cox in the vacancy of the police department caused by the discharge of Erick Graff as presented by Mayor Cain, Aldermen Martin Anderson and Lewis were the only ones who voted in favor, the remaining eight aldermen voted against it.

On the request that Hunt be appointed special policeman to act until an appointment be made, a motion appeared before the council that the request be not granted was won by the count of 6 to 4, Aldermen Martin Anderson, V. F. Anderson, Holmstrom, and Lewis voting no, Aldermen Lyonais, Quanstrom, Roy Paine, Ritari, Wesley, and Chris Elvig voting yes.

Council Room Crowded With Citizens

The council room was packed with interested listeners to the proceedings. Half an hour before the lights were given turned on in the chamber the men grabbed seats as close to the front as possible. It was an important night for the taxpayers of Brainerd. Attracted by the issue at stake, the 200 listeners, about 20 being women, almost went into hysterics when the battle raged. They clapped their hands for their approval, whistled when the opposition talked and laughed generally when the opposition amused them.

Mayor's Notice of Graff's Dismissal

Mayor George Cain's notice of Graff's dismissal as read by City Clerk Mrs. Fleener started the works. The notices here follow:

Brainerd, City Council:

"You are hereby notified that there is a vacancy in the police department caused by my having discharged Captain Erick Graff from the police force on April 12. Said discharge was given Mr. Graff verbally on April 12, and on his request for a written discharge, said written discharge was served on him April 14, a copy of which is hereby attached.

I hereby appoint Roy Cox as a police officer for the city of Brainerd and ask your consent to the appointment."

Erick Graff's dismissal reads:

"You are hereby notified that you are this day discharged from the Brainerd police force. It is my opinion that the welfare of the city demands your removal for the appointment of another officer in your place."

"How long has Cox been in the city" asked Alderman Ritari.

"Several years" replied Mayor Cain.

Martin Anderson moved that the application of Mayor Cain be granted and appointment be confirmed, naming Cox as patrolman for the present. There was no second to the motion.

Graff's Statement by Attorney

Gothfred S. Swanson, of the law firm of Swanson and Swanson appeared for Graff.

"I am appearing for Graff for the reason" stated Swanson "that the mayor desires to appoint someone else in Graff's place. Graff has served for years on the police force and has given universal service and satisfaction, or he would not have been reappointed to his office as often as he has been. Graff feels that an injustice has been done when he was discharged without prior notice a few weeks after getting up from a sick bed. There is no question of his physical ability. He reported to the mayor to start work but instead of starting work he was asked to resign. It is not a fair proposition. If Mayor Cain has grounds for his discharge he should name them. Hasa't Graff performed his duty? Graff's reputation is at stake in the issue and he wants it cleared. Mayor Cain in fairness to Graff should point out where Graff has neglected in his duty. He gives as his reason "for the welfare of the city of Brainerd." The number of people here tonight attest to the fact that they want to see justice done to Graff.

"The mayor asks for more cooperation between him and the city council. He feels he has the right without giving any reason to discharge any member from the police force. Let the council decide the issue on whether Graff has been negligent in his duties or not. Section 12 of the charter as I read it provides the council with the right to remove an officer if he has been negligent in his duties."

Mr. Swanson's speech was culminated by loud handclapping by the audience.

Crossfire of Argument

Mayor Cain when asked for his reasons stated, "My communications are the answers of my actions."

Alderman Quanstrom asked the mayor to give them reasons why he discharged Graff.

"Why didn't you fire him before he became sick," he asked.

Mayor Cain—"If a man can't cooperate with the city police force as Graff did not do, I state for the welfare of the city that man should be discharged."

Alderman Quanstrom—"If you had wished to cooperate with the council there would not have been any trouble now. Because we bucked one appointment, you turn around and buck the council all the time." More handclapping by the audience.

Alderman Martin Anderson—"We have now the best police force we have ever had, (crowd started to whistle.) If there's anyone here who wants to whistle they can whistle out in the hall. If Erick Graff had wanted to cooperate with the council he would not have got it. Graff goes around telling everybody news of all action going on in the force. No man can kick me in the back while working for me. If the Mayor has not the right to discharge a police officer, why is the charter made? If you have one man in the police department, not working with you, then something must be done about it. You never had a better chief of police than what you got now (laughs from the audience). Cain should get right up and tell the council to keep their hands off my police department. Zierke has cleaned up the city and you do not like it."

Alderman Quanstrom—"If you are discharged over at the shops you at least will get a hearing. You have the right as an American citizen to demand it. Mayor Cain is hiding behind the charter."

Lawyer Swanson spoke up—"Graff did cooperate with the police department. He has never been reprimanded by Cain or the chief of police. As a gentleman Graff demands an explanation."

Martin Anderson—"Reports have come back to the mayor concerning Graff. If the shoe fits, why wear it."

"We'll make him special police," replied two aldermen.

Mayor Cain—"I'm running the police force and you are not."

Roy Paine—"Graff is going to work under the council from now on."

Graff Gets Council Job

At this juncture a motion was made by Aldermen Paine and Quanstrom that Graff be apopinted by the council as fire inspector and watchman.

"Under what section do you get your right?" asked Martin Anderson.

City Attorney Fullerton was called upon to read Section 8 which states in part "And such other officers as the council deems advisable."

Martin Anderson—"You say you are fair. I want to say you are not fair. If you got behind the mayor you would get cooperation but you've been bucking the mayor all the time. I am working for the interest of the city." You turned down Roy Cox before you even heard his record. Pretty soon we will not have a policeman on the force at all."

Erick Graff in his new office will receive $115 a month.

And that's that. The crowd dispersed.

BIDDERS FOR CITY CONTRACTS

E. J. O'Brien, Minneapolis, Awarded Contract of Open Well For $7,280

V. WHITE GETS WAREHOUSE

Brainerd Man Bid $5,934 For Two Buildings For Water And Light Board

The bid of E. J. O'Brien, of Minneapolis for the open well for $7,280 was accepted by the Brainerd city council at its regular meeting last night in the city hall. Vernon White was the successful bidder for the construction of the warehouse for two buildings complete for the water and the light board and the city. His bid of $5,934 was accepted with the provision that hytex brick and woodland rustic mix be used in the construction.

The bids received for the construction of the well and the certified checks accompanying were: J. A. Donkel, Webster City, Iowa, bid, $10,220, certified check, $1,400; J. C. Hammett, Brainerd, bid, $8,994, certified check, $900; E. J. O'Brien, Minneapolis, bid, $7,280, certified check, $800; Northern States Construction Co., Minneapolis, bid, $10,950, certified check, $1,100; C. B. Rowley, Brainerd, bid, $8,471, certified check, $842; Albert J. Johnson, Minneapolis, bid, $8,985, certified check, $1,000; Theodore Jensen, Tracy, Minn., bid, $8,486, certified check, $1,000; J. P. Eggerling, Brainerd, bid, $7,928, certified check $792.80.

The bids for the warehouse were as follows: J. E. Jackson, Brainerd, two buildings complete $5,904, water and light building complete, $3,098, city complete, $3,304, certified check for $655; J. P. Eggerling, Brainerd, two buildings complete, $6,370, water and light complete, $3,075, city complete, $3,440, check for $637; Vernon White, two buildings complete, $5,815, water and light, $2,925 city building, $2,890, check for $250 with the special brick Mr. White's bid was $5,934.

A petition signed by 25 taxpayers from Northeast Brainerd was read asking for a ditch on either 10th street or 11th street to take care of the water in the spring. The location for the ditch is between Lake street and Whitely avenue. The petition was referred to the street committee who will investigate the situation and report back to the city council at the next meeting.

A petition signed by 19 taxpayers for a street light to be erected at the corner of 9th and Elder streets. The matter was referred to the Water and Light committee to report back at the next meeting.

The question of the lane condemnation in block 190 between Grove and Bluff avenue between 5th and 6th streets was again brought up before the council. Dr. A. K. Cohen spoke on the matter, favoring a ten foot lane. A petition regarding this matter had been presented to the council some time before. The matter was referred to the Finance and street committee and the city attorney to meet with the property owners and make a report to the next meeting.

The city council last night went on record favoring the extension of Laurel street across the Mississippi river to a point west of Minnesota and International railway line, thus eliminating one grade crossing, there being at the present two crossings, one in west Brainerd and the other across the M. andI. railway right of way. A committee will be appointed to cooperate with the county commissioners to include the same, designated by State Road No. 2.

The request of Arthur J. Magnan to purchase five loads of "nigger heads" located where the old stone crusher used to be was referred to the city engineer and property committee with power to act.

F. L. White's application to install a gasoline filling tank was turned down by the council on the recommendation of the fire chief as a hydrant was located near the proposed site.

The street committee announced their intention to build a new curb on 12th street and Norwood street. City Clerk Mrs. Fleener was instructed to call for bids for the construction.

Alderman Anderson, chairman of the finance committee reported that the sinking fund commission had retired a $15,000 state bond and the same was ordered filed by the city clerk.

A resolution was also put through requesting the city clerk to call for bids for culvert and grading at the Norwood street bridge.

Martin Anderson reported that the water tank was in bad shape and that water was seping through it. The matter was referred to the fire, light and water committee.

LOWELL P. T. A. TONIGHT

This is Last Meeting of the School Year—Commences at 7:30 O'clock

The regular meeting of the Lowell Parent-Teachers association will meet this evening in the school building at 7:30 o'clock. This will be the last meeting of the association this year, except the joint meeting at the high school in May, so a large attendance of both parents is requested and a special invitation is extended to the fathers. A very nice program of music and speaking has been arranged.

The meetings this year have all been well attended and an especially large crowd is expected tonight to finish up a profitable year for both parents and scholars.

SENCIO DIED AFTER BOUT WITH TAYLOR

FILIPINO TOOK PUNISHMENT IN CONTEST

DIED WHILE ENROUTE TO EMERGENCY HOSPITAL AT MILWAUKEE

POST MORTEM EXAMINATION TO DETERMINE EXACT CAUSE OF DEATH

Milwaukee, Wis., April 20—(UP)—Sencio Moldez, known in the boxing world as Clever Sencio, who, last night, was defeated by Bud Taylor, Terre Haute, in a 10-round boxing contest here, died while enroute to Emergency hospital about 9:30 this morning after he had been found in an unconscious condition at his hotel room here.

Frank Wallace, window washer, saw the little Filipino lying across his bed with blood running from his mouth. He immediately notified the hotel manager and they seeing he was in a serious condition, rushed him to Emergency hospital. He was dead upon entrance.

The body was immediately taken to the morgue where a post mortem examination will he held to determine the cause of death.

Sencio was severely punished during his bout with Taylor, but managed to hold his own until the 10th round when a stiff right punch to the chin sent him reeling to the ropes. He did not go down but it was apparent he was "out on his feet." Taylor rained punches upon the jaw and body, but the little fellow weathered the storm until the bell ended the round and the fight.

He collapsed in his corner and although his trainer, Walter Eckhart, worked over him, he had to be assisted from the ring.

Sencio is the second boxer to die following a bout with Taylor Frankie Jerome, a New York bantamweight, having died after a match with the Indiana boxer. Taylor was cleared in hearings held after the New York fighter's death.

Up until the 10th round Sencio had held his own and had not at anytime been in trouble.

Taylor had scored repeatedly with a left hook and only once or twice was he able to score with his straight right.

At the start of the 10th round Taylor landed a straight right to the point of Sencio's chin, which had the Filipino boxer groggy, but he weathered the storm of punches that Taylor rained upon him and was on his feet when he went to his corner.

He was wobbly and his trainer, Walter Eckhart, doused him with water and he apparently came out of it and was taken to his dressing room. He was unable to walk from the ring and was assisted by his handlers.

Bud Taylor appeared at the police station shortly after having been told of the death of Sencio and was questioned by Captain of Detectives Harry S. McCrory.

According to District Attorney Eugene Wengert, Taylor will not be held.

"Boxing is legalized in Wisconsin and as far as I can see there is no grounds for holding anyone in connection with Sencio's death," Wengert told the United Press.

"I attended the bout last night and as far as I could see it was a good, clean bout and I could see no negligence on anyone's part.

"We will naturally investigate the cause of the death through the coroner's office.

"In order to hold anyone there must be some violation of the law," Wengert said.

"I understand the little Filipino passed a good examination yesterday and was in the best of condition."

Walter Liginger, secretary of the Wisconsin Athletic Commission, told the United Press today that the commission would also conduct an investigation into the case. He declared that Sencio passed the examination of the commission physician, Dr. J. J. Hefron, yesterday before the fight and that he was in good condition. There was only one pound difference in the fighters' weights.

According to District Attorney Eugene Wengert, there is no ground to hold Taylor, since boxing is legalized in Wisconsin and that as far as he can see there was no negligence connected with the bout.

Members of the Wisconsin boxing commission told the United Press that Sencio passed the examination of the commission physician, Dr. J. J. Hefron, before the fight.

The death of Sencio recalls the death of another boxer from the Philippines, Pancho Villa, who at the time was flyweight champion of the world. Villa died some time after his bout with Jimmy McLarnin in San Francisco in July last year.

Sencio died of a cerebral hemorrhage, according to the post mortem examination conducted by Dr. Edward L. Miloslavich.

BUD TAYLOR SORROWFUL OVER DEATH

DOES NOT BELIEVE FILIPINO DIED FROM EFFECTS OF HIS BLOWS

BELIEVES COMPLETE EXHAUSTION HASTENED SENCIO'S END

Milwaukee, April 20. — (UP) — "I'm grieved deeply, more than words could ever express, but I don't believe Clever Sencio died from the effects of any blows I landed in our bout last night."

This was the sorrowful comment of "Smiling" Bud Taylor, Terre Haute, Ind., upon the death of the Filipino, who was his opponent in a 10-round bout here last night and whom he defeated.

"Complete exhaustion, I believe, resulted in his death," Taylor declared in an interview with the United Press.

"When Sencio came out for the 10th round he appeared fresh and immediately rushed me as he had all during the bout. The bout up to this time was close. He had kept up a continual swinging of gloves and I just had to step out to win. We both went at it hard for the entire round and I believe the result of that tremendous pace caused his death."

Taylor, his eyes puffed, his nose slightly flattened, sat in his hotel room with his head between his hands, sadly relating the events of the night before and how he had been told of the sorrowful aftermath of his victory over the flashy Filipino.

Taylor paid tribute to Sencio in saying he was one of the greatest boxers of his weight he had ever met.

"I've fought the late Pancho Villa, Pete Sarmiento and now Sencio and I believe he was the best of the three.

"From these bouts I have learned that Filipinos have more endurance than any race of fighters. They don't know when to stop."

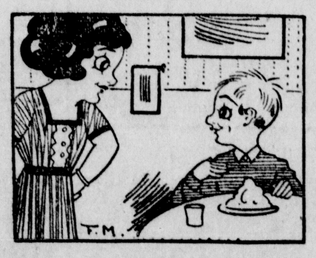

When asked whether he intended to give up the boxing game in view of Sencio's death and that of Frankie Jerome at New York, in 1924, he declared he would not.

"While I know that this sad case was purely accidental and feel that I am in no way responsible, as deaths frequently occur in other athletic contests and infrequently in boxing, I intend to go up into the northern Wisconsin woods for a short rest before resuming my boxing occupation."

LIQUIDATION FAIRLY WELL CLEANED OUT

New York, April 20—(UP)—Further indications that important liquidation immediately overhanging the market had been fairly well cleaned out were afforded in the general stock market list's behavior today. Trading fell off sharply in volume whenever prices sold off, suggesting an absence of offerings as the recent lows were approached. Another factor which strengthened the theory that the market was temporarily in a sold out condition was the indifference displayed by the main body of stocks to weakness in special issues like United States Rubber and Federal Mining and Smelting.

In the last hour a covering movement lifted prices generally among the prospective leaders.

Japan's Big Volcano

Fujiyama is 60 miles west of Tokyo and according to tradition rose from the plain in a single night. The last recorded eruption began November 24, 1707, and lasted until January 22 of the following year. A hump called Hoyei-zan (9,400 feet), noticeable on the south side, was then produced

Money Back, Say All Druggists, If Moone's Emerald Oil Doesn't Do Away With All Soreness and Pain in 24 Hours

Get a bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil with the understanding that if it does not put an end to all the pain and soreness and do away with the corn itself your money will be promptly returned.

Never mind the cause, how long you've had it or how many other preparations you have tried. This powerful penetrating oil is the one preparation that will make your painful aching feet so healthy and free from corn and bunion troubles that you'll be able to go anywhere and do anything in absolute feet comfort.

So marvelously powerful is Moone's Emerald Oil that thousands have found it gives wonderful results in the treatment of dangerous swollen or varicose veins. All druggists are selling lots of it. —Advt.

Red Pepper For Colds In Chest

Ease your tight, aching chest. Stop the pain. Break up the congestion. Feel a bad cold loosen up in just a short time.

Red Pepper Rub is the cold remedy that brings quickest relief. It cannot hurt you and it certainly seems to end the tightness and drive the congestion and soreness right out.

Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers, and when heat penetrates right down into colds, congestion, aching muscles and sore, stiff joints relief comes at once.

The moment you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes the congested spot is warmed through and through. When you are suffering from a cold, rheumatism, backache, stiff neck or sore muscles, just get a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, at any drug store. You will have the quickest relief known.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache, no more hawking, snuffling, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable. —Advt.
